

Description: While the sales of downtown properties were brisk during Chandler's earliest days, building remained slow. The Chandler Arizonan reported on September 12, 1912, that Chandler's development was to mirror Pasadena California: "The whole plan is in line with the company's intention to make Chandler the Pasadena of the Salt River Valley. Pasadena is the most modern and beautiful of the American home cities.

Accession #: 86.16.21

Gift of: N/A

Next Face of the San Marcos ►